

There's nothing subtle about BIG WETT. Sex positivity and queer hotties to the front – this artist and performer is unapologetically liberated in her music, bringing a deliciously horny and inclusive energy to the dance floor.

As the legend goes, the enigmatic BIG WETT emerged through the fog of a dance floor in late 2021, and rapidly gained a cult following through whispers of intoxicating live shows and fabled Soundcloud demos. Today, BIG WETT continues to enthrall her loyal followers around the world, selling out headline shows from Naarm to London, and picking up support from triple j, DORK, NME, Dummy and more.

Her music is made for the sluts, the gays, the girls and the theys – it's all about letting loose and living your best life, while also taking care of yourself and your community. It's about being smart but also gloriously, deliriously silly. It's about singing into a diamanté-encrusted microphone while wielding a double-ended dildo – sometimes both at the same time. It's BIG WETT's world and we're just living in it, baby.

Having made waves on the live circuit with her irreverent and wild stage presence, including memorable performances at Meredith Music Festival and Pitch Music & Arts, a UK debut at The Great Escape and an upcoming slot at Splendour in the Grass, BIG WETT announces herself officially with her debut EP set for release in September this year - aptly titled PU$$Y.
