Artist Anne-Marie Cullinan aims to portray the creative meditative state called “flow” through her artwork. To reveal to the viewer a sense of the artistic flow embedded within the creation of her paintings. The “flow” ground is created by manipulating layers of plaster and paint, producing a surface embedded with colour and texture. The resulting smooth surface readily receives portrait drawing and painting, resulting in a type of contemporary fresco. This collection features musicians Sofia Izquierdo and Yuka Fukuzaki.
